

A WINNING PARTNERSHIP

Since 2013, Cathay Pacific and Air New Zealand have operated a joint alliance on services between New Zealand and Hong Kong.

Under this agreement, passengers flying with either carrier on certain routes can enjoy a wide range of benefits such as greater connections to destinations in Asia and Europe, better frequency, more competitive airfares and shared frequent flyer benefits.

MORE FLIGHTS AND SERVICES TO CHOOSE FROM

Both airlines code-share on all services between Auckland or Christchurch and Hong Kong, offering more routing choices for travellers.

Improved and better-coordinated flight schedules help to increase connection opportunities to destinations in China, North Asia and Europe via Hong Kong.

Flight numbers CX7401 and CX7402 are Cathay Pacific flights operated by Air New Zealand.

CONSISTENT QUALITY, PREMIUM SERVICE

Cathay Pacific and Air New Zealand are multi-award winning international airlines committed to the highest standards of excellence in air and on the ground.

Whether passengers are travelling in Economy, Premium Economy or Business Class, both carriers are renowned for their ergonomic seats, chef-designed menus, extensive entertainment offerings and exceptional service.

EARNING MILES AND CLUB POINTS

Asia Miles and Marco Polo Club members will earn the same Asia Miles and club points on Auckland-Hong Kong or Christchurch-Hong Kong services operated by Air New Zealand (when on a CX flight number), as they would on a service operated by Cathay Pacific.

Please refer to the Asia Miles website for more information on earning rates.

BAGGAGE ALLOWANCE

For passenger convenience, Cathay Pacific and Air New Zealand have aligned their baggage allowances and extra baggage charges for those travelling between New Zealand and Hong Kong. For specifics regarding baggage weight and size, please refer to the following links:
